

INTERACTIVE LECTURE

Lecturers are asking the question during the lecture but usually only few students follow and respond. The online system like Mentimeter enables to present the question on the slides where the Access Code is presented.

Each student using this code can answer the question and the final responses are presented to all students.

Main challenge, Key Success and Enabling Factors

- Lecturers are asking the question during the lecture but usually only few students follow and respond.
- The online system like Mentimeter enables to present the question on the slides where the Access Code is presented.
- Each student using this code can answer the question and the final responses are presented to all students

Lessons Learnt and Recommendations

- Using Mentimeter you make your teaching more interactive by letting the students actively participate in lectures.
- Moreover you can use Mentimeter as a formative assessment tool.
